

Posted by Emiliano Barela

CO Motorcycle Safety Project Manager

March 13, 2015

Basic/Beginner Rider Course Curriculum Inquiry

Hello,

Does anyone offer more than one Basic / Beginner Rider Course curriculum in their respective State, which may upon successful completion be used to waive either the written and or skills tests and allow a student to get their motorcycle license or endorsement?

For example, here in Colorado the only two curriculum utilized, that upon successful completion may be used to waive all testing, are the MSF BRC and the BRC 2-License waiver.

MINNESOTA

Just the BRC 2013 in Minnesota.

~Bill Shaffer

OREGON

Hi Emiliano—

In Oregon there are two license waiver courses available:

Basic Rider Training (BRT) - 3 day course for beginners, required course for those under 21 Intermediate Rider Training (IRT) - 1 day course for those with limited prior experience, only those over 21 can get license waiver with completion.

~Michele O' Leary

PENNSYLVANIA

In Pennsylvania, a skills test waiver and M Class license may be obtained through successful completion of the BRC, BRC2 or 3WBRC.

~John Zimmerman

VERMONT

In Vermont individuals may obtain a motorcycle endorsement by successfully completing a BRC or BRC2 License Waiver.

~Paul Graves

MARYLAND

Not sure why folks refer to these bills as "red light running". These bills
~Phil Sause

VIRGINIA

Emiliano, Here in VA we waive the written and skill test for the basic rider course and Evergreen Safety basic sidecar/trike course.
~Bruce Biondo

WASHINGTON

Good morning Emiliano,

In Washington, for 2-wheel, the BRC, IRT (Intermediate Rider Training), ERC, and Rider's Edge courses all qualify as license endorsement waiver courses and for 3-wheel, S/TEP and S/TEP advanced both qualify as license endorsement waiver courses. We include our state knowledge and skills tests as part of the training courses that must both be passed in order to pass the training course. Upon successful completion of any of these courses, the rider can obtain their endorsement. We do allow for other curriculums to be used if we have first reviewed and approved the curriculum as meeting our minimum standards. Hope this is what you were looking for.

~Andrea Nygard

MISSOURI

In Missouri only the MSF BRC is accepted for waiver. The waiver is only good for the skills test. Applicants still have to pass a written at the DMV.

~Ray Pierce

RHODE ISLAND

Ditto for RI

~Despina Metakos

MICHIGAN

Michigan accepts the MSF BRC and the Returning Rider BRC as skill test waiver certificates.

~Joe Kelly

MICHIGAN

Same here in Michigan. The MSF BRC and RRBC completion can waive the skills test here.

~Chad Teachout

CONNECTICUT

CT will offer the MSF BRC and the BRC update in 2015 concurrently, depending on whether or not Instructors have gone through and passed a TRCP.

~Nicholas Just