Motorist awareness videos

Happy Friday everyone!

Does anyone have a :30 second motorist awareness video that they can share? We are looking for one that is relatively new (within the last 2 or 3 years). A link would be awesome!

Thanks.

Michele,

I remember the AMA (I'm pretty sure it was them) had one a few years back that had a driver "menacing" a motorcyclist. The next scene has that driver in a Dentist's chair and he notices the helmet the rider was wearing on a counter. Then I think it ends with the Dentist, drill in hand (vrrrr, vrrrr), saying, "Ready?" and you know she recognizes the driver.

I think the message is still valid. I may have a copy somewhere, but you may need the blessing of the AMA to use it.

Regards.

Here is a link to the commercial on YouTube and yes it was from the AMA.

Yup, that's it. My long-term memory is still working, but why am I getting this?

Now, how do you copy vids off youtube?

MISSOURI

Search for "video downloader" or "youtube downloader". I believe the Firefox browser has "add ons" that accomplish this as well. Of course any copyright infringement considerations are between you and your attorney. :)

Hi Michele,

You can view our videos on our Facebook page. The awareness 30 second spot is in the middle and our alcohol spot is on the left. I think we did the awareness spot in 2003 but it still works for cars turning left.
